Dear Parent/Guardian:

As senior year continues at its whirlwind pace, we hope that the college application process has been moving along smoothly for you and your student. This year we will be hosting On-Site Admissions events with five local colleges, during which admissions counselors will be conducting interviews and reviewing applications, which include transcripts and other supporting documents. Application fees are waived for students who participate.

This year's schools are:

- New York Institute of Technology (11/9)
- Hofstra University (11/23)
- St. John's University (11/24)
- Long Island University – Post (12/2)
- Molloy University (12/3)

Each school has its own eligibility requirements. Please review this information with your student when deciding which schools to apply to through the on-site option. Only students who meet the criteria can sit for on-site. Students who do not meet the criteria can still apply to these colleges; they are simply not eligible for a same day decision.

An On-Site Registration Form must be submitted through the Google Classroom by Monday, October 26th in order to be scheduled for on-site appointments. It is the student's responsibility to make sure that his/her applications are complete and submitted on time (ONE WEEK before the scheduled date.) We strongly encourage your student to take advantage of this opportunity if eligible. We have attached the general instructions for on-site along with the school specific information. If you have any questions, please contact your student's counselor. We look forward to a very successful experience for all involved.

Sincerely,

The Guidance Department

On-Site Admissions 2026

General Instructions:

- You can apply using either the Common Application or the college's own application. Fee waiver information for each school is provided within the school specific information.
- The application must be submitted by the student at least 1 week before the on-site appointment.
- If you are submitting SAT or ACT scores, a copy of the scores must be handed in to Guidance so that we can provide them to the college(s.)
- In order to be scheduled for an on-site appointment, in addition to submitting the application, you must fill out the "On-Site Registration Form" that is available on the Guidance Google Classroom. This is done once and is due on October 26th.

Dates and Deadlines:

NYIT – Application Due November 2nd (On-Site Event – November 9th)

Hofstra U. - Application Due November 16th (On-Site Event – November 23rd)

St. John's U. – Application Due November 17th (On-Site Event – November 24th)

* Note that St. John's also requires a separate student registration (link will be provided)

LIU-Post – Application Due November 25th (On-Site Event – December 2nd)

Molloy U. – Application Due November 25th (On-Site Event – December 3rd)

You can apply to more than one school through on-site and the decision is not binding. In order to secure an appointment (or appointments), you must:

- Meet the school's criteria
- Fill out an On-Site Registration Form by October 26th
- Complete and submit the college's application at least 1 week before the on-site event

NYIT

- Students should have at least an 80 GPA for test optional majors.
- Life Sciences/Physician Assistant Studies and Life Sciences/Occupational Therapy require standardized test scores and can receive a decision on-site.
- Students are encouraged to review the Test Optional Policy before applying:
https://www.nyit.edu/admissions/first_year_test_optional_policy
- Two letters of recommendation are required.
- Students interested in the following programs can set up an on-site meeting but cannot receive an immediate decision: Life Science/Physical Therapy, Life Sciences/Osteopathic Medicine, Graphic Design, Digital Art & Design, Architecture
- The fee waiver code is OTSD. It is a drop down option in the NYIT Common App Questions section.

Hofstra U.

- Students should have at least an 85 GPA and fall into one or more of the following criteria: strong academic curriculum, leadership and community service, test scores within or higher than the mid-range (1140-1350) if submitting.
- Students applying to the Nursing or Physician's Assistant programs can discuss the review process with an admissions counselor, but will not receive a decision that day.
- Students who are applying to the 4+4 Medical School or LEAP Law School programs can attend and will receive general admission consideration, but will not be granted admission to these programs at on-site. The supplemental application must be received and will be reviewed at a later date.
- Students applying to the NOAH program are not eligible for on-site.
- Students should select the "I have a fee waiver" option in the Hofstra Common App Questions section.

St. John's U.

- Students should have at least an 85 GPA. If submitting test scores, the minimum SAT is 1070 (at least 500 on each section) and the minimum ACT is 23 (at least a 21 on Math and English).
- Students applying to Nursing or Biomedical Sciences must submit test scores to be eligible for an on-site interview.
- The following majors are not eligible for on-site decisions: Bio/Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine, Bio/Optomety, Pharmacy.
- There is no fee to apply to St. John's.

LIU – Post

- Students should have at least an 85 unweighted GPA.
- Admissions recommends not submitting test scores initially. Test scores and whether to submit will be discussed during the on-site meeting.
- Students applying for the Musical Theatre/Acting BFA can meet with an admissions counselor, but will not receive a decision until after their audition and departmental application review.
- The fee waiver code is LIU2027. The code is entered in the LIU-Post Common App Questions section.

Molloy U.

- Students should have at least an 85 GPA. If submitting test scores, the minimum SAT is 1000 and the minimum ACT is 20.
- Students applying to the Nursing program should have at least an 87 GPA and, if submitting test scores, a 1050 on the SAT or 22 on the ACT.
- Students applying to the Cardiovascular Technology, CAP21 Musical Theatre or Music programs can meet with an admissions counselor but will not be given a decision that day.
- The fee waiver code is ONSITE. The code is entered in the Molloy Common App Questions section.
